

Fairfax Youth Commission launches Teen Center

Nadia Trautwein, Jake Weinsoff, Emma Mooney, Carlee Murray, Jolan Timms, Matt Saunders, Ryan Meagher, and Olivia Sicroff

Youth Commission members with the help of Jack Irving and Pam Hartwell-Herrero officially launched the Fairfax Teen Center on Nov. 5th, 2010.

Our Grand Opening included an Open Mic session with great support from Jack Irving, games facilitated by Matt Hartwell-Herrero (who managed a discount and a number of free games from Darren Layne, manager of GamesScape in San Rafael.), and a movie with thanks to a donation of a DVD player by Dave Champine. A sign to be hung during Teen Center evening was painted by local artist Jen Jones and other signs made by the Youth Commission members. A cleaning and painting party was well attended and everyone seems happy with the updating.

The Teen Center will be open on any Friday night that is NOT a holiday AND has at least two adult chaperones. Chaperones needed!!

We are working on teaming up Youth Commissioners to take turns organizing the theme and activity for these nights. Jack Irving is willing to do one Friday per month as Open Mic. Our next Youth Commission Meeting is scheduled for Dec. 6th. New flyers will be posted, we have a FaceBook page for Fairfax Teen Center and will be submitting updates to the Town website. The next Teen Night will be with Open Mic on Dec. 3rd. We will not have Teen Night on the Dec. 10th unless other chaperones are found. Council member David Weinsoff has agreed to chaperone on Dec. 17th.

Fairfax Teen Nights- FREE
Most Fridays from 6-9pm at 16 Park Road Fairfax
All Ross Valley Teens invited
Live music, Open Mic, Movies, Games
Pizza slices -$1 Lemonade - $1
Sponsored by the Fairfax Youth Commission
Contact phartwell-herrero@townoffairfax for more information

We are still seeking youth art and a representative from the commission to serve on the Parks and Rec Commission.